NEW DIGITAL THREAD MANUFACTURING LAB

The Department of Defense-funded Digital Thread Manufacturing Lab opened this month using Origin's Checkmate software to bring automation to critical but historically impossible to automate Production and Inspection tasks.

Connecticut Center for Advanced Technology (CCAT) is up and running and booking training sessions. Anybody that's in Connecticut should reach out to Colette Ruden to book a CHECKMATE training session.

MBE QIF SUMMIT

A premier joint event is being planned for 2024 – a QIF Summit held in conjunction with the highly popular MBE Summit, featuring technical content organized by NIST and DMSC. The event venue will be the MxD facility in Chicago and will include three and a h alf days of MBE and QIF-centric technical presentations, roundtable discussions, and informational sessions from NIST and DMSC.

The MBE Summit is scheduled for Tuesday, April 16 and Wednesday, April 17. The QIF Summit will follow on Thursday, April 18 plus a half-day on Friday, April 19. One modest registration fee ($200) covers both events.

Website registration will be available on Monday, February 5 at noon (CST). MxD in Chicago is an excellent venue, however, due to facility space constraints, registration will be limited to 200 attendees. Expect this event to sell out quickly. Additional details to follow.

The technical program offerings will also be posted on February 5 at noon (CST). Solution Providers will be available for individual discussions that could help assure your successful experience with the MBE/QIF journey.

Look for announcements regarding the event registration links – we'll keep you updated so you'll be able to register as soon as registration is open. Again, we do expect this event to sell out quickly!

Don't miss out on this "must be there" event! More information can be found on the MxD website.

UPCOMING EVENTS
